About School fees for those who have passed the entrance examination for working individuals of the graduate school Master's Degree Program

With regard to tuition rates for those who have passed the entrance examination for working individuals, students can choose either the "regular School fees" which is a fixed amount or a "credit-based system tuition fee" for which the course fee is determined according to the number of registered credits.

Choice from "regular tuition fee" or "credit system tuition fee" must be made by April to early May when the registration procedure is completed. The tuition fee system chosen will be applied during enrollment in our university and cannot be changed, so please choose them carefully after referring to the "Timetable" and "Syllabus" and making your own study plan.

The payments at the time of admission shall be the entrance fee, the amount equivalent to the enrollment fee, and membership fees in the credit system tuition fee. After admission, you are required to pay the difference between the payments at the time of admission and the semester tuition fee when you choose "regular tuition fee," and the registration fee according to the number of registered credits when you choose "credit system tuition fee," until June 20.

◆ About the Long-term Course System

We established a "Long-term Course System" that allows students who have difficulty in completing a course in a normal set period of time due to their profession, etc., to take the course systematically for a certain period of time and complete the course.

For details, please check the university official website

(<https://www.ryukoku.ac.jp/faculty/graduate/chokirishu/index.html>).

○ Outline of the Long-term Course System

[Target graduate schools]

This system is applied to Master's and Doctoral Degree Programs of all graduate schools of our university.

[Target students]

Students can wish to become a long-term course student when they qualify as any of the following students who have difficulty in completing a course in the standard period of study:

- (1) Those who have an occupation
- (2) Those who are under various circumstances such as housework, long-term care, childcare, and childbirth, etc.
- (3) Those who are recognized as being under considerable circumstances by the relevant graduate school

* However, regardless of the above (1) to (3), the following students are not eligible.

- International students
- Those who enroll in a Master's Degree Program of the Graduate School of Law or the Graduate School of Policy Studies on the one-year program under an agreement on mutual cooperation related to regional human resource development.
- Those who are scholarship students for regional human resource development tuition support among students who will enter or have been enrolled in a Master's Degree Program of the Graduate School of Business Administration under an agreement on mutual cooperation related to regional human resource development.

[Long-term course period]

The upper limit of the period is up to six years for both a master's degree program and a doctoral degree program. However, the leave period is not included in this period.

[Application period and method]

If you wish to be eligible for the Long-term Course System, you need to make an application during one of the following periods:

1. When making an application before admission: Admission procedure period
2. When making an application after admission: The period up to one month before the start of the academic year of the long-term course (application in the completion year is not acceptable.)

[Screening method]

Based on the submitted application documents, etc., the applicants will be screened at the graduate school to which they belong (will belong).

[Payment method for school fees, etc.]

Long-term course students will be required to pay the regular school fees by even installments according to the period of study.

e.g. A case where you are from another university and entered a Master's Degree Program of the Graduate School of International Studies
